The money earned from each project will be decided how to use it prior to beginning the project. (Will it be put into the general fund, Will it be used towards a specific item or purpose, Will it go into individual scout accounts, or a combination.) All money-earning projects must be approved by the Advisor and meet Boy Scouts of America requirements if done as Boy Scouts.

Article 9: Crew Finances

The Treasurer will Collect, deposit, and account for all money coming to the club from dues, money-earning projects, or other sources.

An adult from your committee will be assigned to assist you. Cooperate with him or her and take advantage of this help to set up a bookkeeping procedure, bank account, and money-handling methods. He or she doesn't do your job for you, but with you, and is responsible to the crew committee. This adult will be available to help you and will arrange for an audit of your accounts once every three months.

Routine expenditures for targets, NRA Training Materials, range fees, membership fees, and uniform items do not require approval from the Officers as long as the money is there to cover the expense. All other expenditures must be approved by your officers and Advisor before a check can be written. Large amounts should be approved by crew members.

The Advisor and Committee Treasurer will be the only signers on the checking account. Only one signature is required.

Individual accounts (Scout Accounts) can be setup to credit members for monies earned from money-earning projects. Individuals may also apply funds into their account. The funds in these accounts may be used to pay for targets, ammo, uniform items, trips, food for trips and or events, travel expense, club activities, event fees, awards, membership fees, archery equipment & accessories, and firearms (as allowed by law i.e. age & parents permission if applicable) & accessories. Request to use funds for other purposes requires approval from the committee. The funds cannot be paid directly to the member unless prior approval from the Committee is granted and can only be paid as a reimbursement. When membership is terminated in the club, any funds remaining in their Individual account will be credited to the general fund. Use of funds must be related to club activities. These accounts will be setup for both youth and adults. Any account that has a negative amount must be brought up to date within two weeks.

Article 11: Tobacco, Alcohol, and Drug Use

The Boy Scouts of America prohibits the use of alcoholic beverages and controlled substances on encampments or activities on property owned and/or operated by the Boy Scouts of America, or at any activity involving participation of youth members. Although some Venturing age participants are of legal age to purchase and use tobacco, they are considered Youth Participants under the Guide to Safe Scouting until the age of 21.

Adult leaders should support the attitude that young adults are better off without tobacco and may not allow the use of tobacco products at any BSA Activity involving youth participants.

Adults must adhere to the above policy. A designated area for Adults 21+ to smoke can be setup, but must be away from the youth.

Article 12: Fraternization

Because the Venturing program is designed for young adults, there often is little difference in the ages of the crew Advisors and the Crew members. It has been found that maintaining a close social relationship, as in dating, between registered Ventures is disruptive to the crew's program and, therefore, is not permitted by the Boy Scouts of America.

All members, youth and adult, will be cognizant of the fact that both sexes are present for all functions. Co-Ed behavior expectations include the following: Be respectful and considerate of each others bodies and psychological boundaries. No entering the domiciles (tents, rooms, etc.) of the opposite gender. No Public Display of Affection (PDA) should occur at any club activity. This includes kissing, and handholding.

Youth - At all times there must be co-ed groups of three. Co-ed groups of two are allowed provided they are the same gender. Co-ed groups of two of different genders (male/female) are never permitted to be alone, and must have a third person to leave the designated area.

Adults – No one-on-one contact. One-on-one contact between adults and youth is not permitted other than for his or her own youth. Personal conferences must be conducted in plain view of others.
